A law school classmate of mine, now in private practice in Boston, has made a substantial living suing the Church of Scientology on behalf of those defrauded into making large contributions to the Church and those disaffected members harassed because they have been placed on the Church's "fair game" list. Because of prior successes in this endeavor, he and his colleagues in Boston have been besieged by prospective clients, a number of whom reside in the Southern California area.

These "church-busters" are now looking for plaintiffs lawyers in the Los Angeles area who would be willing to undertake the joint prosecution of some of these claims on a contingent fee basis. They offer what has been characterized as a "turn key" lawsuit, i.e., a client, a claim, the fruits of discovery from prior actions, and years of experience in litigating with the Church. If you know of any local lawyer willing to join forces with these Boston attorneys, and willing to incur the Church's wrath, please pass his name along to me.
